Who we are

Ranch Ehrlo Society is a non-profit, registered charitable organization dedicated to providing a range of quality assessment, treatment, education, support and community services that improve the lives of children, youth and their families.

We operate residential, clinical, community, and educational programs across the province. Youth are referred to our residential programs by the Saskatchewan Ministry of Social Services, First Nations Child & Family agencies, as well as out-of-province referrals. Clients are referred to our community-based programs through a variety of channels including advertising and promotion, professional referrals, and word-of-mouth.

VOLUNTEERS

“We cannot always build the future for our youth, but we can build our youth for the future.”

~Franklin Roosevelt

Volunteers play an important role in the lives of our children, youth, young adults and families; providing them with the reassurance that people do care and that they are valued-members of the greater community.

As a volunteer with the Ranch Ehrlo Society you will help children, youth and families develop a brighter future.

Volunteers allow Ranch Ehrlo to provide services and enhance programs in ways that we would otherwise not be able.

“Those who can, do. Those who can do more, volunteer.”
~Author Unknown
